VARIOMulti goes digital: Thommen Medical presents the new VARIOMulti Digital components!

The new digital prosthetic solution for the VARIOMulti system offers partially and fully edentulous patients a fixed prosthesis with the reliable quality of Thommen Medical. The high-quality materials can be used for temporary and final restorations to achieve optimum treatment outcomes. Patients will benefit from the advantages of a CAD/CAM fabricated zirconium oxide restoration.

A suitable CAD/CAM system allows practices to keep value creation in-house and increase productivity by using digital design and fabrication processes. In the long term, this leads to improved patient experiences and potential cost savings for dental laboratories, practices, and their patients.

Prof. Dr. Mauro Merli:

«From the patient's point of view the digital workflow reduces the unpleasantness of the treatment to a minimum. The clinical phase is less time-consuming, and, at the same time, costs are reduced. The laboratory process is considerably shortened and permits the use of high-quality materials.»
